Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Tuesday 25 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Some rain tonight. Brightening up during Wednesday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Any showers will slowly die away during the evening, followed by a few clear spells. Cloud will increase later in the night though, with outbreaks of rain moving in from the north, more frequent over the hills. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Wednesday:
A dull start, with outbreaks of rain. Brighter and drier in the afternoon, although the odd shower remains likely. Best chance of any sunshine along east coastal areas. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Cloud breaking up to sunny spells and the odd afternoon shower on Thursday. Cloudier on Friday, with patchy rain for some. Bright or sunny on Saturday. Becoming warm.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.